

Survivor Network

The Survivor Network of the North Carolina Coalition Against Human Trafficking (NCCAHT) is designed to create networking opportunities and fellowship among survivors of sex and labor trafficking in North Carolina and surrounding areas. The Network is a capacity development and resource hub for survivors who want to learn and grow their professional and personal skills. The Network also acts as a bridge for survivors looking to use their lived experience to guide service providers/agencies in best practices as well as share their story to effect social change. The Network also works with agencies seeking to connect with survivor leaders for consulting, advising, and speaking engagements.
